is to Make Wilson's Will Supreme.

BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES
WASHINGTON, Dec. 16.—The bet within the Democratic party for control of the Senate in the next administration has been decided within the last few days as the result of concerted actions by a small body of Democrats in the Senate, the basis for what they call "Progressive control" in the next Senate.

After a series of conferences, culminating in a dinner yesterday at which nearly all Democrats were present, arrived at a general understanding that the movement decided to have the control of legislative power after March 4, by means of full sympathy with the newly organized "Progressive" wing.

SENATE FIGHT.

The Senate fight is expected to reach
President-elect Wilson almost as soon as he takes up questions of legislation.
The leaders in the Democratic "Progressive" movement assert that at least twenty-five of the forty-two Democratic Senators in the next Congress will support their view of the progressive programme. They estimate that at least seventeen of the thirty-six "holdovers" Senators will align themselves with the reorganization element and that a majority of the incoming Democrats will join them.

The fight for places on the important Senate Committee is an integral part of the new movement.
The "Progressive" forces probably will be denied a fair distribution of places among the old and new members on the five leading committees—Appropriations, Finance, Foreign Relations, Judiciary and Interstate Commerce—and a similar distribution on the five next important committees—Commerce, Military Affairs, Aeronautics, Postoffice and Agriculture.

Such an arrangement would change the seniority system under which the old Senators have the choice of places, and often hold commanding positions on several of the leading committees.

Senators identified with the movement refused to outline today the extent to which the reorganization might affect Democrats of long service like Tilman, Simon, Overman, Martin,
Culbertson, Bon and Johnston.

Senator Owen, however, said that in the new Senate the members of the Progressive party would be given the choice of places.

He said:

"The new programme has been adopted, but the campaign is underway now. The entire subject of control of the Senate by the reorganization movement, of a newly organized party, is now settled. The new Senate will be

WILSON SILENT AS TO CABINET.

Back from Bermuda, Expects to See Bryan.

Leaves for Trenton With Message in Pocket.

Wife and Daughter Spend Day in Shopping.

BY WIRELESS LINE TO THE TIMES
NEW YORK BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Dec. 16.—[Special Dispatch.] Rested and refreshed after his month's sojourn in Bermuda, President-elect Wilson returned with his family aboard the Bermudian.

The ship had a placid trip all the way except for a short rough spell just outside Hamilton harbor. The weather was so propitious, in fact, that the liner made a new record for the voyage, coming up in forty hours, beating the previous time about half an hour.

As regard to politics, Gov. Wilson was not very talkative when "queried" by the press. He said he had made up his mind that one of the two or the other about the selection of Mr. Bryan as Secretary of State. He did say, however, that he hoped to see Mr. Bryan and confer with him very soon.

WILSON AT WALDORF.

President-elect Wilson reached the Waldorf shortly before 10 o'clock and with Mrs. Wilson and their three daughters he left soon afterward to call on Mrs. Hubert, whose cottage the Wilsons occupied while in New York. Miss Mary Wilson said her father wanted to see Mrs. Hubert personally for her kindness and to tell her how much he had enjoyed his stay there.

The President-elect left for Trenton this afternoon at 4 o'clock, taking with him his message to Bryan. He will return to New York this evening to attend the dinner of the Southern Society. Mrs. Wilson and her daughters bused themselves with Christmas shopping this afternoon and this evening were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Dudley Malone at a theater party.

THE INAUGURATION CEREMONY.

The only politician to be found in the corridors of the Waldorf this morning was National Committeeman J. F. Costello of the District of Columbia, who came to the choice of a man to act as master of ceremonies at the inauguration. He recommended the appointment of Eldridge H. Jordan, a banker of Washington, for the position. It was said, however, that Chairman William F. McCombs and not Costello was of this selection and with others.

It was announced that Mr. Wilson would go to Staunton, Va., to spend his forthcoming birthday.

SALUTE THE BERMUDIAN.

The Bermudian steamed up the bay she was saluted by the whistles of several dozen craft. In fact, from the time she came through the Narrows she was kept busy answering the shrill salutes from tug and other small vessels. The Bermudian stopped near the starboard rail signing autographs on blank slips of paper or cards which his fellow-passengers handed to him. It was evident that patriotism was high on the Bermudian. She entered the harbor, the Bermudian passengers crowded the Bermudas' Pilgrims' Society and chose Wilson as their first president. As the gang plank was thrown down, Richard Behrens, the pilot, left his post on the bridge to shake hands with the distinguished passenger.

PILOT FELT HONORED.

"I am very glad to have had the honor of bringing you in," he said. It developed that Behrens, who is one of the oldest men in the business, however, is the oldest member of the crew, having been a sailor for 16 years, thirty-seven years, went down the bay early last night in a schooner for the express purpose of bringing the Bermudian into the harbor. Gov. Wilson was asked about W. J. Bryan and the rumors which connected the Nebraskan with the post of Secretary of State.

"I hope to see Mr. Bryan very soon," he said with a smile. He added, however, that the report published that he offered the Nebraskan a "job" was baseless.

WILSON AT HIS HOME.

President-elect Phegus Into Correspondence and Decline to Attend Performance of Triangle Club.

(BY WIRELESS LINE TO THE TIMES)

PRINCETON (N. J.), Dec. 16.—[Special Dispatch.] President-elect Wilson returned home tonight after his month's vacation in Bermuda and at once plunged into a large mass of correspondence that was awaiting him. He buys time as the Governor that he may have a definite answer from the Triangle Club of the university to attend the opening performance of "Once in a Hundred Years." The President-elect would not talk politics this evening.

Asked about his conference in New York with Mr. McCombs, he said that it was merely a general talk on the Democratic situation. No politicians bothered Mr. Wilson on his trip from New York, most of the time which he spent in discussing the beauties of Bermuda with Edward Howe, a prominent banker who was on the train. As he got off the train at the station here his first remark was, "Well, this certainly looks like it."

Gov. Wilson will go to Trenton tomorrow to find out what has happened in New Jersey in the month. In the afternoon he will go to New York to speak at the dinner of the Southern Club at the Waldorf.

EIGHT SCORE AMERICANS MURDERED IN MEXICO.

A Terrible Toll Exacted by the Revolution, According to State Department Figures—Situation in the Latin Republic More Serious Now Than at the Time of Abdication of Diaz.

BY IRA E. BENNETT.

(BY WIRELESS LINE TO THE TIMES)

WASHINGTON BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Dec. 16.—[Special Dispatch.] More than 150 American citizens have been murdered in Mexico since the revolution has put that country in its grip, according to authentic information which has been brought to the attention of the State Department in Washington.

From time to time, dispatches have been received in the United States telling of the killing of an American, but it was not known until today that the amazing total of 150 American lives had been sacrificed to Mexican anarchy.

ACUTE SITUATION.

While there have been recent reports of improvement in the situation in that country, it is more serious than at any time since Porfirio Diaz was forced from the Presidency. Among the lawless element the hatred of Americans is intense and their lives are held cheaply. Citizens of European nations likewise have been murdered and are looking to the United States for greater protection than is now being accorded by the Mexican government. According to authentic reports from Mexico, millions of dollars worth of property of American citizens has been stolen or destroyed and apparently the Mexican government is almost powerless to give the protection demanded

Premier.

THE SURRENDER TO BRYAN ON WASHINGTON CALENDAR

BY IRA E. BENNETT.

(BY WIRELESS LINE TO THE TIMES)

WASHINGTON BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Dec. 16.—[Special Dispatch.] The organized opposition on the part of the reactionary Democratic Senators to the selection of William J. Bryan as Secretary of State in the Wilson Cabinet has collapsed. Tonight official Washington believes that Bryan is all but certain to be the premier in the Wilson Cabinet.

Sen. Martin of Virginia, Democratic floor leader, has seen Bryan and is in agreement with the new Secretary of State's appointment to the Cabinet, but it is not clear what his attitude is.

The attitude assumed by Senator Martin is construed as meaning that the whole reactionary fight against Bryan's appointment to the Cabinet has failed and that the Nebraskan will certainly be asked to take the office.

The attitude assumed by Senator Martin is construed as meaning that the whole reactionary fight against Bryan's appointment to the Cabinet has failed and that the Nebraskan will certainly be asked to take the office. The change of attitude on the part of Senator Martin is considered the more remarkable because of his influence that made it possible for Thomas F. Ryan, Wall street operator to sit in the Baltimore convention as a member of the Virginia delegation. It was against Ryan and August Belmont that Bryan entered his fight.

convict lease system since I have been in public office. In every public speech I have denounced it. As a member of the penitentiary board I have opposed it in every instance where I was at issue. Some after I have made up with the warden to abolish, but in spite of my appeals for relief and the repeated protest of the State and the representatives of the people and the managers transmitted by the Governor to the past two governors, the penitentiary and county farm lease system, no adequate relief has been given.

The subject has been greatly neglected by the penitentiary, probably due to a confusion of ideas as to what plan best to adopt and partly due to a disposition by some to let the matter remain as it is with the statement that the penitentiary was not designed as a penitentiary.

According to reports from impartial witnesses, the evidence presented to the past two governors, the penitentiary and county farm lease system, no adequate relief has been given.

The subject has been greatly neglected by the penitentiary, probably due to a confusion of ideas as to what plan best to adopt and partly due to a disposition by some to let the matter remain as it is with the statement that the penitentiary was not designed as a penitentiary.

"I am not so much as a statement, let me say, nor was it designed for a revengeful hell. The abuse of power shown by a few individuals acting as justices of the peace in some towns in Arkansas is as made plain by records, as anyone can imagine, to those who have given the matter attention.

"Ever since the adjournment of the last Legislature, without taking any action on the subject, I have had in mind to some way myself find some measure of remedy for the evil. But because of conditions which would materially disarrange matters so that the subject would have been hidden in a fog of confusion, I have not found the time until this time, when all legitimate objections may be overcome and relief had."

Gov. Denaghay cites ten instances which led him to strike a blow at the convict lease system. The first is one in which two negroes were sentenced to serve thirty-six and eighteen years, respectively, for forging orders for eighteen quarts of whisky. Another is an instance in which a young white boy was compelled to serve the hot sun while he had a fever and died.

"My principal reason for discharging the large number at this time is for the purpose of forever breaking up the convict lease system in Arkansas. I would be untrue to my convictions and as I see it, untrue to the State's best interests if I did not do everything in my power to bring about this result." Gov. Denaghay says in conclusion.

CONVICTS FORM POSSE.

Home Men in Arizona Camp Start on Trail of Companions Who Fleed to Hills.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES)

GLOBE (Ariz.), Dec. 16.—Posse composed of "honor system" convicts are scouring the hills and valleys of Gila, Graham and Pinal counties in search of two other convicts who broke their pledge yesterday and fled from the road camp in the Pinal mountains.

The men who escaped were Manuel Gutierrez, a life-term convict, and a Papago Indian who was serving a term for horse stealing. Several of the convicts in the Globe today were searching for the fugitives.

Deputies in Chicago Office Likely to Lose Jobs for Accepting Negro's Bribe.

(BY WIRELESS LINE TO THE TIMES)

CHICAGO BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Dec. 16.—[Special Dispatch.] A thorough investigation of conditions existing in the office of the United States Marshal is being made following the discharge of Edward C. Martin, for many years a deputy on telegraphic orders from Atty. Gen. Wickersham. Marshal's discharge is said to be due to his having accepted the hospitality of Jack Johnson, the negro pugilist. Other deputies are said to be under investigation on similar charges.

THIRTEEN DAYS IN OFFICE.

SANTO DOMINGO, Dec. 16.—Archbishop Adolfo Alejandro Nouel, provisional President of the Dominican Republic, presented his resignation yesterday after holding office only thirteen days. He suspended it later, however, at the request of the members of the Dominican Congress and a number of prominent people.

Four Shot by Bandit.

Ans joined in the fruitless search for the outlaw.

At daybreak the man with a revolver ached his hand, compelled Chambers to feed him, saying: "They will be after me, but I'll kill all of them and then go back and kill the girl's folks."

With the sun reddening the sky beyond Old Baldy and the other half a dozen ranches drove the herd into the foothills. In the clear air of the morning, even before they could see the men, his rifle cursing and yells of defiance rang out. He was armed with a rifle and a revolver. He was a rider of a mile from Tomato Springs, where Chambers and William Cheney's houses are located, and stationed himself in the thick rocks and brush of small peak.

UP THE RIDGE.

Up this ridge went Under Sheriff Squires, Deputy Sheriff Stacey, armed with revolvers only, Constable C. E. Jackson and City Marshal Samuel Jernigan of Santa Ana, armed with rifles.

Just as the sun peeped over the distant range, the firing began. Squires, struck by a bullet, stumbled and fell. Stacey, Jackson and Jernigan pummeled him at the gun. Squires righted himself in his position. He slipped and fell, and a bullet spat where he had that instant stood.

"I'm shot," called Stacey.

He got out of the range of fire. Robert E. Bard and other men had joined and were above the peak. Sheriff Rudeeck, Jackson and Jernigan tried to get to Squires, but bullets drove them back.

Squires was taken to Santa Ana, and by 10 o'clock dozens of automobiles bearing men from the surrounding country had gathered at the place. Le Rudeeck, Jackson and Jernigan were led to the gun. Squires lay dead. Behind the ridge lay the gun. He was buried by Sheriff Rudeeck.

THROUGH THE BRUSH.

At 10:15 o'clock Rudeeck, Harry Tubbs, William Culver and Albert Prater determined to get Squires. They crept through the brush to him. He was stone dead, with six bullet holes in his body, one through the neck, one through the upper jaw, two in the abdomen, one through the arm and one through the shoulder. The bloodthirsty bandit had riddled him even after he had fallen.

OPEN FIRE.

Suddenly the bandit opened fire on the four men, crouching beside Squires. Prater fell with a hole from his right temple to just above the eye, from which his brains gushed. Culver was shot in the knee. Culver struggled to the rim out of fire. A brave band rushed to Prater, dragged him through the brush and over the edge of the ridge. Men were carried down and to an emergency hospital established under the trees at the Chambers place, where Drs. Wehrly, Ball, Gordon and Burlew and C. S. Kelly, a druggist, were in charge. From there the injured were taken to the hospital.

Overcoat shells were fired in the next hour, but the outlaw remained hidden in the gully, near the bottom of the brush-lined canyon. He was in a pocket canyon, the upper rim of which was covered with marksmen. The men were scattered over the ridge.

OPEN FIRE.

Suddenly the bandit opened fire on the four men, crouching beside Squires. Prater fell with a hole from his right temple to just above the eye, from which his brains gushed. Culver was shot in the knee. Culver struggled to the rim out of fire. A brave band rushed to Prater, dragged him through the brush and over the edge of the ridge.

OPEN FIRE.

Prater was hit in the head, and the bandit shot back. He was headed for another deep draw. Suddenly he threw up his hands, and went down out of the ridge.

"Run him," shouted the Sheriff. The draw was washed out deep. Through the brush in its bottom the man started down, knowing he could not escape going up and not knowing where the guardsmen were stationed.

OPEN FIRE ON HIM.

Sight of the man was caught, and from all around the rim dozens of rifles opened fire. The bandit did not shoot back. He was headed for another deep draw. Suddenly he threw up his hands, and went down out of the ridge.

The draw was washed out deep. Through the brush in its bottom the man started down, knowing he could not escape going up and not knowing where the guardsmen were stationed.

OPEN FIRE.

Harry Tubbs, who had braved the bandit's fire in an effort to rescue Squires, says that Sammy Burke, a former football hero of the local High School, fired the fatal shot.

Deputy District Attorney Koeppe, who with Dist. Atty. West, were among the attacking party, says it is the opinion of the local police force that the man who fired the fatal shot was

Robert Squires, who had been attacked by the bandit. The man who fired the fatal shot was Money Trust Investigators Held by a Snag.

New York Banker Refuses to Answer Question.

But Wall Street Will Soon Give a Statement.

BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES. WASHINGTON, Dec. 16.—The refusal today of Frederick Lewisohn of the New York banking firm of Lewisohn Brothers, to make a statement as to the profit made by a syndicate formed to float the stock of the California Petroleum Company forced an adjournment of the House Money Trust Committee. The committee adjourned until tomorrow to allow Mr. Lewisohn to confer with his counsel, Martin Vogel, as to answering the question.

Tonight the witness conferred with his counsel and hurried conference was held with his associates in New York over long distance telephone. If Mr. Lewisohn declines to answer the question when the committee meets tomorrow, it will be up to the House power to take the case to the Speaker of the House who may certify the record to the District Attorney for the District of Columbia. It would be his duty to take the matter before the grand jury and ask for an indictment for violation of the House which is punishable by imprisonment.

The disputed question was asked after Samuel Untermyer, counsel for the committee, had fed Mr. Lewisohn through a long discussion of the operations that preceded the listing of the California Petroleum stock in the New York Stock Exchange in October. Mr. Lewisohn said his firm, Wissler, Solomon and Company, and Halligan and Company had formed a syndicate to handle the $12,000,000 preferred and $15,000,000 common stock issued by the California company. He took the stock through two subsequent syndicates with which he was connected, by the last of which the stock was opened to purchasing investors. On October 3 the stock was listed on the New York Stock Exchange and Mr. Lewisohn said he conducted market operations in the stock which ended during the next month from 15 to 20,000.

Two of the syndicates, Mr. Lewisohn asserted, sold 10,000,000 of the common stock and 5,000,000 of the preferred at 40 and $1 respectively. This was out of 10,000,000 of preferred and the amount of common which Mr. Lewisohn did not remember, but which Mr. Untermyer suggested as 16,000,000 shares. The original syndicate for 10,000,000.

At this point Mr. Untermyer tried to evolve that the remaining 5,000,000 shares of common went to the syndicate as profit. Mr. Lewisohn said he could not remember the figures. "Will you furnish the committee a well, but enjoyed it.

Tired? Not a bit. They—the suff-

PEACE DELEGATES MEET, GLARE AT ONE ANOTHER.

BY CABLE AND A. P. TO THE TIMES.

LONDON, Dec. 16.—The preliminaries of the peace conference were completed today and apparently the Greek difficulty regarding the signing of the armistice has been surmounted. Everything is in readiness for actual negotiations to begin tomorrow.

So wide is the divergence in the claims of the respective Balkan allies and Turkey that there is little prospect of an early termination of the conference.

The Turkish and Bulgarian delegates had a prolonged informal meeting at 1 o'clock this evening at which it was reported they discussed Adrianoce.

It is reported through Berlin to-night that the Servian Ministers in council decided, in deference to Russia and France, to yield the seat of the Conference to the Adrianoce and that the Servian Premier, M. Patchitch, is coming to London in connection with this determination. The report has not been confirmed, but there are indications of relaxation in the Servian-Serbian differences. The Ottoman Emperor is credited with remarking that he was hopeful of the ability of Austria to carry out her Balkan programme in its entirety without resort to force.

The Prochein affair appears to have been greatly misrepresented and no longer affords ground for dissension.

SEA BATTLE.

The first engagement between the Turkish and Greek fleets occurred today, but so far as is known, without serious damage to either side.

The peace plenipotentiaries met formally this morning and the conference adjourned early in the afternoon without having entered into the discussion of the question of peace.

GREEK SPEAKS.

The feature of the day was the address of welcome delivered by Sir Edward Grey, the British Secretary for Foreign Affairs, at the opening session of the conference.

The responses of the heads of the various delegations indicated a desire to accomplish the purpose for which the conference is being held.

TURKISH SECRET.

The terms formulated by Turkey have been kept secret, but it may be asserted on good authority that they include the renunciation by both sides of any money transaction under the form of indemnity or otherwise, except the taking over by the Balkans of a portion of the Ottoman state and the cession of the new territories they acquire. They provide also that the Sultan shall have a representative in the territories passing to the allies, while Ottoman courts shall be instituted for Musulman subjects; that Adrianople—the first Turkish capital in Europe, and surrounding territory shall remain to Turkey, that the Turko-Bulgarian frontier south of Adrianople shall be marked by the Maritsa River, while the territory west of Maritsa, as far as the Struma River, and to Bulgaria, which thus would have the port of Kavala, to which she long has aspired.

Turkey will demand that Salonika, over the possession of which it is pointed out, terms Greece—Grecian—antecedents, and those shall remain to Turkey, and together with Monastir and Scutari and their respective districts shall form Ottoman territory surrounding Albania.

Servia is to have Uskup, Prishtina, Mitrovica and part of the sanjak of Novi Pazar, the remaining part of Montenegro.

To Bulgaria is conceded the island of Thasos, but Turkey claims possession of the other islands in the Aegean Sea, including Samothrace, Imbros, Lemnos and Mytilene, together with those now occupied by Greeks, because they belong to Asiatic Turkey. But the administration at Constantinople pledges itself to obtain from England, Russia, France and Italy, the four protective powers in Crete, their consent that this island shall be annexed to Greece.

These terms would give the allies four-fifths of the territory which a few weeks ago was in European Turkey, but notwithstanding what seems to be a great concession, a comparison of the terms of the allies with those of Turkey is sufficient to show the immense gulf separating them.

Even admitting that many concessions have been made, an ultimate understanding appears difficult. Because of this the idea of mediation has been put forward.

All of the delegates, however, declare emphatically that they know nothing about mediation and that it is extraneous to the mission here, which is limited to the negotiation of peace without even the power of concluding it. For the conclusion of peace either they or others must receive the authorization of their respective governments.

CHORUS GIRL IN HEINZE CASE.

WIFE GETS SECOND HIGHEST ALIMONY IN NEW YORK.

Negro Porter Is Only Witness to Alleged Indecency of Copper Magnate—Court Allows One Thousand Dollars a Month in Uncontested Suit.

BY WIRELESS LINE TO THE TIMES: NEWBURGH, Dec. 16.—[Special Dispatch.] The second highest alimony ever recorded in New York State was allowed Mrs. Bernice G. Heinze of New York City this evening, when Justice Tompkins of the Supreme Court granted her a decree of divorce from her husband, Fritz Augustus Heinze, under the provisions of the decree. Heinze is to give his wife $1,000 a month alimony and is to pay the rent of her apartments in New York, amounting to $225 a month, until the present lease expires, which will be about January 1. Mrs. Heinze, also, receives the custody of their only child, F. Augustus Heinze, Jr., born December 6, 1911, and the father is directed to pay for the lad's education after it reaches the age of five years.

PORTER ONLY WITNESS.

Only one witness, a negro porter, named Croker, employed on a Pullman sleeper running on the Denver, Los Angeles division of the Union Pacific Railroad, was sworn this afternoon at the hearing. A photograph of Heinze and an identification card issued by a Mrs. Lavelle, a chorus girl, was shown the witness. The picture was snapped in Denver while Heinze was visiting there in December last. The negro porter saw the man in the photograph on his car at 11:55 a.m., September 26, last, he testified.

He said the man had entered a stateroom with the upper and lower side berths. In company with this man, the witness testified, was another gentleman who was from Denver to Ogden. At that point, the witness asserted, the gentleman, not in the picture, got off and a woman got on. Mrs. Heinze, the witness, occupied the same compartment. He testified that the woman was the same one who appeared in the photo with Heinze.

HEINZE DOES NOT APPEAR.

The witness said that the trip during which the man and woman occupied the same compartment lasted from 1 p.m., September 26, until the following morning. Immediately after the negro porter completed his testimony, Benjamin F. Spellman, representing the plaintiff, presented affidavits showing default on the part of the defendant and stated that an agreement had been reached with Heinze relative to the alimony and custody of the child. As Heinze did not appear at this evening's hearing the decree was granted.

Is He Unable to Hold a Position on Account of His Drinking Life?

The world is full of capable young and middle-aged men who are failures simply because they are poisoned with alcohol, and who don't realize their condition strongly enough to make the effort to be relieved by proper treatment.

If you have a husband or son who is becoming a worthless alcoholic wreck give him a chance to begin the new year a sober man. Act for him, at once, and give him the Neal Drink Habit Treatment which is a harmless, vegetable remedy that will remove all craving and necessity for drink in three days, without the use of painful, dangerous, hypnotic injections.

During the year 1912 thousands of drunk wrecks men and women have been redeemed and restored to a sober, useful life if they will spend three days at the Neal Institute.

Climate Failed;

Medicine Effective

It has been absolutely shown that rest, fresh air and good food do help make men well again. See it for yourself. It must be admitted that the disease is seldom more than "arrested." Something more is needed.

Heinze's Alternative is a medicine made for the treatment of Tuberculosis. It has this disease again and again. Often these bacteria have been scattered where the surroundings were not ideal—not removing the cause. Now we argue that Heinze's Alternative is a medicine in every case of Tuberculosis, in addition to good, nourishing food and fresh air, which we all need. A remarkable case follows:

Waldon, Ill.

—"Gentlemen: Through Heinze's Alternative I am again well, and I am now in my right form, better and stronger. I grew well, and became very much emaciated. My physician informed me that I must go to Colorado to get well again. I left Texas, June 1, and arrived in Canon City, June 2, very feeble. After being there a week, I was still not well, and my case was hopeless. Three weeks later I returned home, weighing 185 pounds, the same as when I left, and no assurance of reaching there alive."

"On July 14, 1905, I began taking Heinze's Alternative, and, for the first time in my life, I weighed 152 pounds. My lungs became well and can do any kind of work about my great elevator. I have not had a doctor or pain since I began to take Heinze's Alternative. I feel well, and have well, and never feel better."

LIFE AND DEATH ON LINER.

Two-Year-Old Child Is Scalded to Death and a Chinese Baby Is Born on Board Ship.

BY WIRELESS LINE TO THE TIMES: SAN FRANCISCO BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Dec. 16.—[Special Dispatch.] Life and death changed the passenger list of the liner Kuro, which arrived here today from the Orient via Honolulu. On December 9, a day off Honolulu, death came to the 2-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Miller, cabin passengers. As the shroud was being prepared to bury the Miller child at sea a baby was born to Mrs. Miller in the steerage. The father of the Miller child was giving the little fellow a bath and turned the hot water on too suddenly. The child was so badly scalded that he died an hour later.

He said the man had entered a stateroom with the upper and lower side berths. In company with this man, the witness testified, was another gentleman who was from Denver to Ogden. FLIMSY PLEAS BRUSHED ASIDE.

Eddie Case Goes to Trial in Spite of Objections.

Five Permanent Jurors Are Already in Box.

Choate-Anderson Demurrers Quickly Overruled.

The backer of the Eddie-Anderson defense received a setback yesterday in Department Eleven of the Superior Court when Judge Fred V. Wood overruled demurrers of Anderson and Choate and ordered Eddie's counsel to proceed with the much-contested case. The examination of talemens was immediately begun and at the end of the session five permanent jurors had been selected.

George Baker Anderson, deposited secretary to the Mayor, and Fred M. C. Choate, who was discharged from a petty deputyship in the City Prosecutor's office following the Lloyd fiasco, confidently expected that their demurrers would be sustained.

Instead following a strong presentation of the position and decisions by Chief Trial Deputy H. C. Hill, the court overruled the demurrers. In doing this he had the District Attorney stipulate that no evidence of any alleged assault against Lloyd would be admitted.

SCATTERS HER JEWELS.

Woman Stumbles and Falls in Crowded Street and Spills Valuable Contents of Hand-bag.

There was a shower of expensive jewelry at the intersection of Broadway and Seventh street yesterday afternoon when Mrs. M. M. Roberts, an elderly woman residing at No. 425 Grand View avenue, stumbled and fell as she was running toward her automobile. Her hand-bag flew open and her gold watch, several rings and other jeweled ornaments were scattered about the pavement.

CANT GET HIS GOATS!

Arizona Man Fails to Supply Fire-break Goats for the Angeles National Forest.

The cherished plan of the supervisor of the Angeles National Forest to have a herd of goats to eat the grass of the fire-breaks in the big woods have fallen by the wayside.

W. J. Brinkhoff of Safford, Ariz., who had agreed to furnish not less than 2000 goats for the purpose, has failed to make good and the government will have to look elsewhere for his services.

But the supervisor does not despair. There is a man up Arava way who agrees to furnish the goats. The supervisor will not give his name to the palpitating public until the animals are well on their way to the mountains, for the secret of Brinkhoff to make good has made life miserable for the official.

IN FAVOR OF TUNNEL PLAN.

ARGUMENTS PRESENTED TO CITY COUNCIL COMMITTEE.

Question of Time Urged as of Vital Importance to Merchants. Hill Ravers Present, but Silent. Councilmen Decide to Postpone Their Decision.

At a hearing before the Streets and Boulevards Committee of the City Council at the City Hall last night arguments in favor of boring two tunnels immediately were presented by members of the First and Second Street Tunnel Association. In accordance with the plan of the committee, the meeting was confined strictly to a presentation of the merits of the tunnel proposition. Many advocates of removing Bunker Hill were present but none of them participated.

The committee adjourned without taking any action or making any recommendations. Additional reports from the Bunker Hill Boring and Re-Grading Association will be made within a few days.

John N. Metcalf, representing the tunnel association, was the first speaker. In support of tunnel-boring, he urged the negative side of the hill-boring project. He said the hill cannot be removed until the city backs the proposition and that the city's credit is already strained too far to make such action wise.

"Five years is my estimate of the time required." The estimate is an estimate of the cost is $35,000,000. Cutting down the hill would be of no

HOPE'S DYING WITH HOURS.

Air Still Holds the Secret of Lost Aviators.

Searchers on Land and Sea Fail and Return.

Flyer's Manager Pins Faith on an Island.

Up to 3 o'clock this morning no trace had been found of Horace Kearny, or his passenger, Chester Lawrence, who essayed an over-the-land flight from Newport Beach to San Francisco. The air holds its secret well, and all the well-planned, systematic searching of scores of men, aided by many boats and the coastwise wireless service, has failed to develop any clue to offset the fear which with the passing hours grows almost to a certainty that the aviator and the newspaper man are dead.

An unconfirmed rumor reported the finding of a quantity of wreckage many miles of coastline, thought to have been a part of the hydrogen aeroplane, but the source of this rumor which it seems rolled in via Marconigram, could not be determined.

Second Mate Miller of the steamer J. Higgins which crossed Redondo Beach yesterday morning, sighted about three miles off Point Dume, what he supposed to be a fishing boat, but which, upon using the glass, he discovered to be an object with two wide wings. Miller knew nothing of the missing aviator and the mate made no report of his conversation to the captain, who was asleep at the time. The officers of the Higgins report very rough weather Saturday and Sunday.

These reports, however, are more or less indefinite and unreliable. The great fact is that the men are gone; their slender craft has disappeared, and only a battered float, which formed a part of the equipment, has been picked up to give its mute evidence of what may have been.

HOPE GIVES OUT.

The theory that the men were picked up by a passing steamer grew less tenable with every passing hour. To have been rescued from such a violent storm, early Saturday afternoon, and finding the men still missing, must have been long delayed after the men struck the water, for even with life buoys.

WITHDRAWAL OF BONDSMAN MAY PUT DARROW IN JAIL.

THAT Clarence Darrow, who is awaiting his second trial on the charge of bribing a juror in the McNamara case, will be called to temporarily occupy a cell in the County Jail for lack of bondsmen was indicated yesterday when information reached the District Attorney to the effect that one of the sureties will withdraw.

Col. Charles Summer Young, a wealthy resident of Los Angeles county, is understood to have stated positively that he will no longer remain on the bonds, which are fixed at $25,000.

Asst. Dist.-Atty. Ford refused to discuss the situation yesterday, though he admitted he had received word that Darrow would have to find a new bondsman. But from other semi-official sources it was learned that Col. Young had gone on the bond merely to keep the lawyer out of jail and that since then he has made no investigation of his own or has had information given him that fixed his present determination to have nothing more to do with the case.

In the event that a new bondsman is required today or tomorrow it is believed that Fremont Oldham, of San Francisco, will be asked to furnish the surety.

"I have heard nothing about any difficulty in regard to the bonds," said Earl Rogers. "I saw Darrow a few days ago. He is in good health. I am not preparing for the second Darrow trial. For one reason I have been tied up in other cases.

BROTHER, ALSO A MINOR, COUNSEL FOR PATRICIDE.

ONE BOY appearing in court as counsel for another charged with murder was the unusual spectacle witnessed in Police Judge Rose's court yesterday afternoon when Martin R. Rickert, 14 years old, was arraigned on that charge for the killing of his father, Daniel H. Rickert.

Rickert, three years the senior of his brother, informed the court that he will appear for Martin.

The elder Rickert was shot early Thursday morning as he was standing in the door of his stable at No. 527 McGaugh street, Martin, who said after he had been taken into custody that he shot his father because he hated him, fired through a window of the house a few feet away.

The complaint, charging murder in the first degree, was sworn to by Leo Marden, the head of the police juvenile bureau. When Martin was arraigned Officer Marden said:

"The defendant is without counsel, Your Honor."

"No, we have no counsel," said Ralph, rising from his seat and approaching the bench, "but I will appear for him if given permission."

"All right, sir," replied Justice Rose.

"Is it part of the proceedings here to have an examination, Judge?" queried the youth.

"It is," returned the court, "but this is not a trial. He will not be required to plead here. The earliest date I have before next February are next Monday and Tuesday. You can have either."

After thinking for a moment, Ralph said:

"We'll take Monday."

"Very well," replied the court.

"Monday morning at 10 o'clock, I will remand Martin into the custody of Leo Marden, representing the Sheriff."

Ralph took his brother by the arm and led him from the court, followed by Officer Marden.

Ralph and Martin look so much alike that they are taken for twins.

For a time in court yesterday few of the spectators could tell the juvenile counselor from the defendant. Ralph is perhaps half an inch taller than his brother. The boys were dressed almost alike.

Ralph wore a band of crepe on his left sleeve. Martin, the slayer, had no such emblem of mourning.

THE REAL SANTA CLAUS.

How Would

Traffic Record.

TOURIST CRUSH GREATEST EVER.

Will Surpass Last Season, Best Heretofore.

Additional Cross-Country Train Service.

Palatial Equipment and Fast Schedules.

Never before has tourist travel shown the phenomenal early season volume of this year. During the past two weeks the Santa Fe has found it necessary to run second sections of its California Limited out of Chicago on nine different days. More than second sections of the same train are scheduled in here on the 19th, 21st, 22nd and 24th insts.

On and after January 1 the Santa Fe will operate its California Limited in two sections daily, except Tuesday. The California Limited is on account of the Santa Fe de Luxe.

Though no official figures are forthcoming, the passenger agents of the different railroads say the past coldest season brought more persons to California than any previous season. In spite of the fact that the tourist season is brief, but that days are against sixty days in previous years. It is therefore thought not the much to accept that the tourist travel here will also establish new records.

ADDITIONAL SERVICE.

Additional train service between the East and West is to be offered by the Salt Lake Railroad, in connection with the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul and Union Pacific railroads, beginning about April 1. The westbound train will leave Salt Lake City bound for Los Angeles and will make the run to this city in about twenty-eight hours. The schedule for the eastbound train, which will also be operated daily, has not yet been worked out, but it is probable the train will leave here between 3 and 5 p.m.

The equipment of these trains will be furnished by the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul and the Pullman companies, and will be of the de luxe variety, consisting of all steel electric-lighted sleepers and observation cars. With the outfitting of these trains the Salt Lake will have two trains in either direction daily. It had been expected that this additional train service would be established January 1, but the builders were unable to get the equipment ready in time.

OFFICE ON WHEELS.

Announcement has been made by the Southern Pacific that its Sunset Limited, between New Orleans, Los Angeles and San Francisco, will resume service for the winter season January 2. The train will leave New Orleans on the 1st at 11 a.m. and 4 p.m. Thursday, January 2, and Los Angeles at 2:15 a.m. Wednesday, January 8, leaving thereafter until further notice at the same hours, same days, once a week. A charge of $15 in addition to the first-class rate will be made for travel on these trains. The connection for thirty minutes before the departure of the trains will be furnished, while telegraphic market reports and news items will be furnished en route. The Santa Fe de Luxe train between Chicago and Los Angeles began operation for the winter season with fanfare.

The Union Sam is economical as evidenced by the ad that has gone forth that three men are to be assigned to a section when Troops I and L, Fourth Cavalry, consisting of 120 men, and seven officers, are moved out of the Sam's de Luxe from San Francisco en route to Honolulu. There are to be two tourist sleepers and one standard sleeper in the train, in addition to a kitchen, tourist and two baggage cars, these last for the accommodation of the $2,000 pounds of government stores and the 1,000 pounds of supplies. The special is to leave Honolulu January 2, as the transport that is to carry the troops to Honolulu sails at noon, January 4.

ROSMARIES COMING.

Already 100 reservations have been made for the trip of the Royal Rosmaries from Portland to Southern California. The capacity of the train has been limited to 150 persons. A round-trip mile of $35 has been made available for the Rosmaries. The train will consist of one dining car, one six twelve-section drawing-room car, one compartment drawing-room car, one observation car, one club or buffet car in front and two diners near the center of the train. Ornate electric lanterns and designs will be used in illuminating the train. The special will leave Portland at 6 a.m., Wednesday, January 2. The party will break up here and drift homeward, according to their several desires, as the ticketares are good for many days.

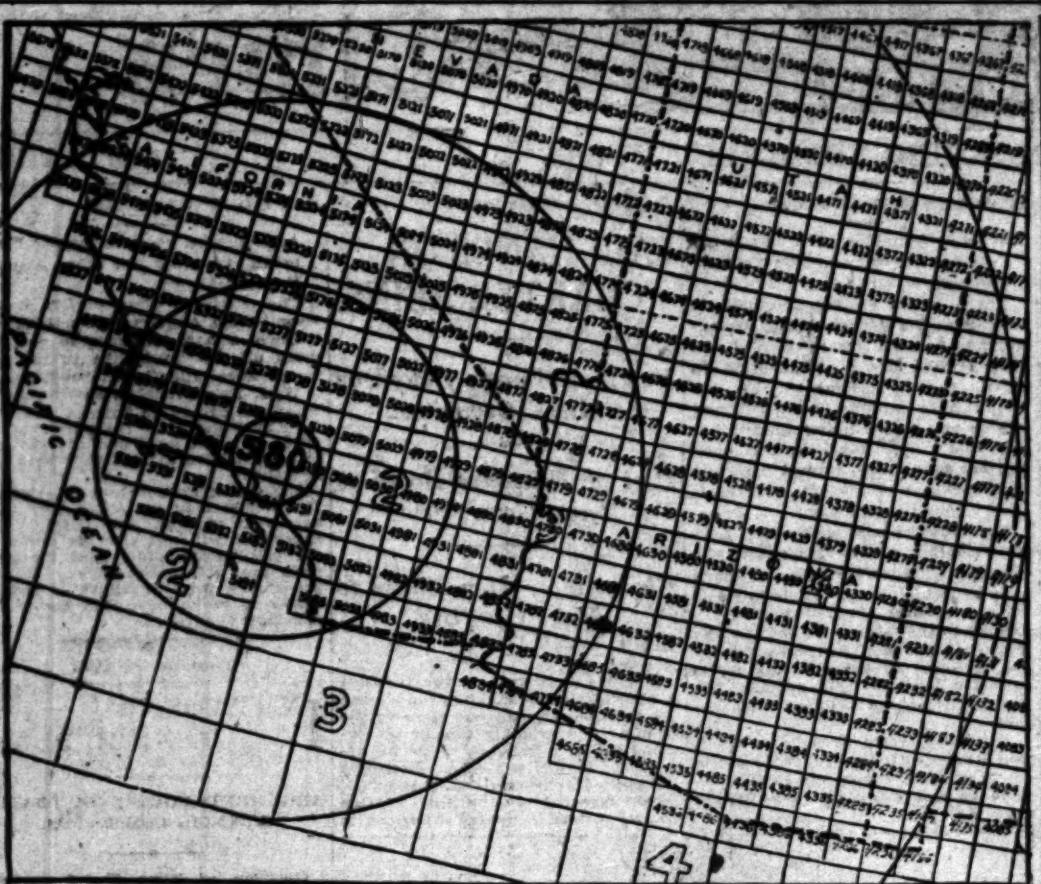

REMEMBER THE ORPHANS.

Homes for Children Believe in Santa Claus and the Public Is Bound to Miss Good. The little folks in the Los Angeles Orphan Home at El Segundo and Western streets have an abiding faith in Santa Claus and the only way in which this faith can be justified is through the generosity of the public.

With so many mouths to feed the directors of the Home are doing their best to provide and care for their pathetic little charges who do not know the love and sympathy of a "truly" home with a real mother and father to provide for them.

The available funds of the institution are all required for the maintenance of the home and its clothing, but the folks who have the work at heart want to make the coming holiday a genuine "merry Christmas" for their dependent charges, and to this end contributions of money in any amount will be thankfully received. The Home is at the head of the hill, just off the main street, or about two blocks from the Coliseum on El Segundo street.

Money donations may be sent to the chairman of the Christmas Committee, Mrs. J. W. Dawson, No. 444 St. Paul avenue; to W. D. Longyear, assistant cashier of the Security Bank, or to Miss Maude Adams, financial secretary, No. 1017 St. Andrews Boulevard.

PARCELS POST RATES ISSUED.

CIRCLES RADIATING FROM CITY INDICATE ZONES.

Comprehensive Table Shows How Much Each Found Up to Eleven Cents in Shipment to Any Place. Fractions Considered Full Pounds Where Found Rates Obtain.

The official parcels post map of the United States made public yesterday shows how up to eleven cents for parcels falling under the new classification are to be fixed after the law becomes effective, January 1.

The unit assigned to Los Angeles is $1.16. About Los Angeles is drawn a circle which indicates the local area within which the rate is the lowest. This practically is the city rate.

Then comes the first zone which approximates a thirty-mile radius within which the rate increases slightly on all packages above one pound, and as the distance from the home unit grows the rates become greater but the cost is proportioned to the mileage. Thus a ten-pound package sent to Chicago, lying in the sixth zone, will cost from $1.16 to $1.21 cents, while a same sized package to San Francisco, lying in the second zone, will go forward for 42 cents. If the merchandise is sent across the continent to the other coast the cost will be $1.42 to $1.47 cents per five pounds, or 12 cents for one pound.

All units of states intersected by the circle forming the outer boundary of any zone shall be considered as being entirely within such zone.

Parcels are mailed at the rates of 1 cent for each ounce or fraction of an ounce, regardless of distance. Parcels weighing more than four ounces are mailed at the rate of 1 cent for each ounce or fraction of an ounce, regardless of distance.

SUSPECT IS IDENTIFIED.

Several Conductors and Motormen Say Man Under Arrest Is the One Who Held Them Up.

Edward Gow was positively identified yesterday by four men as the lone, well-dressed bandit who terrorized street car crews several days ago by holding up the motormen and conductors at the terminus of the lines and taking the company's fares.

Gow only laughed at the passengers and went on a swishing walk, turned upon his heel and requested to be returned to his cell, remarking:

"Why should I be annoyed?"

A complaint charging Gow with highway robbery will probably be sworn to today by one of the four men who identified him as the bandit who made the announcement that they cannot be mistaken in their identity of the prisoner.

Gow was arrested on South Main street Friday night, while in company with Gerald Schofield, 28 years old, who is held as a fugitive from justice until St. Joseph officers can come for him. He is wanted there to answer to a first-degree burglary charge.

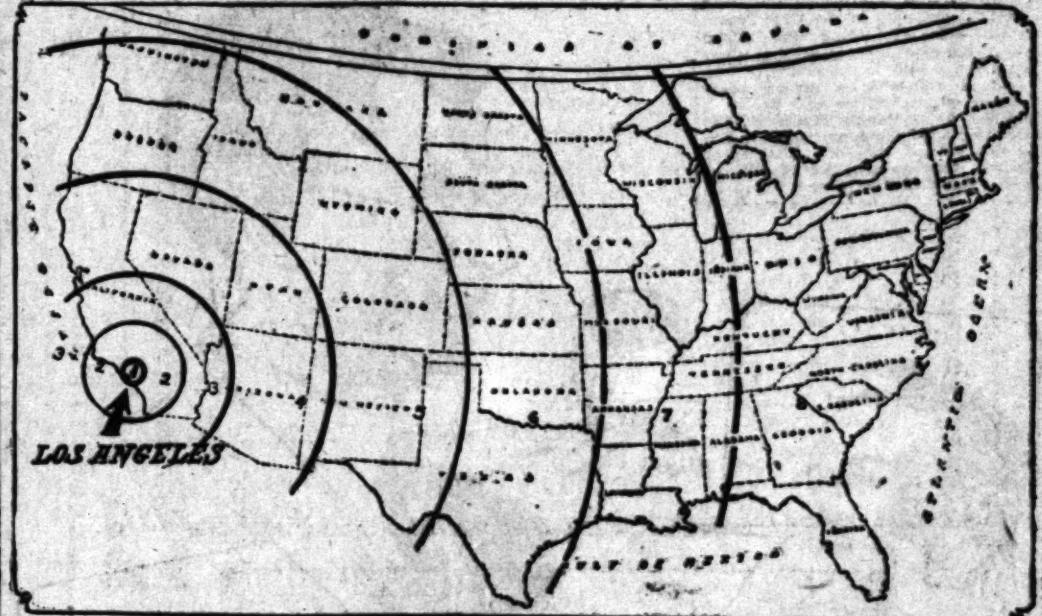

D. A. Hyatt, No. 1110½ Georgia street, conductor, and W. R. Price, No. 121½ Girard street, motorman, were held up at the terminus of the Crown Hill line, and took $12.45 from Hyatt.

On the night of November 27 a North Main-street car was held up near Bantam Park. W. H. Randall, motorman, and C. C. Anderson, conductor, described yesterday that Gow is the bandit.

The crew of the Eagle Rock line car that was held up on the night of the 28th inst. has not yet been identified.

DICKENS'S CAROL INSPIRES IDEA.

FELLOWSHIP BAZAAR BENEFIT OF BLIND, SUCCESS.

Care of Afflicted Children to Be Made Special Cause of Chapter Organized Here Yesterday—Santa Claus Novelty Makes Great Hit. Mails Impersonate Dandies.

This city recently with a membership of ninety enthusiasts.

It is the habit of the Dickens Fellowship of Great Britain and America to read to their last meeting before the holidays. As an expansion of this idea the local fellowship decided to hold a benefit bazaar for the benefit of blind children, and this it did yesterday at the Woman's Club House, No. 345 South Figueroa street, concluding last evening with a presentation of Festivus' party in which sixteen clever persons participated.

Those who were black satin coats and trousers with white silk stockings and black pumps. It is declared that these six gentlemen are all young ladies.

Friends of the dandies insist they recognized Miss Marjorie Cunningham and Mrs. Freda Price among the dandies. Youth, anyway, it was a fastidious dance, daintily executed and gave the guests much pleasure.

Charles H. Eagar had the distinction of playing Santa Claus and made a great hit when he opened his packet and produced two dainty minkes.

Henry Irving Scovell, William Green, Verda Bridgeford and Mrs. Fred Zillah Withrow were among the members of the cast.

The building was decorated with red evergreens, the flower best loved by the teacher.

THE formal opening of the social season will take place tomorrow evening with the first subscription dance in the ballroom of Hotel Alexandria. The preliminary affairs have been to introduce the debutantes who are to be special guests on this occasion. Since the first coming-out party early in October, society has been enjoying a mad whirl and Wednesday evening each young woman recently bowed to the world of fashion will be present.

Under the direction of Mrs. Reichl the Alexandrians will be abounding with decorations and lights, forming a wonderful setting. The patricesses who have perfected these delightful plans include Mrs. Michael J. Connell, Mrs. Connelly, Mrs. McGowan, Mrs. Randolph Huntington, Mrs. George May, Mrs. Garland, Mrs. Hancock Banning, Mrs. Alfred Solano, Mrs. Ernest A. Lawrence, Mrs. Kate Slanson Vassberg, Mrs. Cameron Erskine Thom, Mrs. J. C. Drake, Mrs. May Wilcox Longstreet, Mrs. Guy Cochran and Mrs. Allan Balch.

To Entertain.
Mrs. E. J. Ernst of No. 18-19 Berkeley will preside today at a large reception in honor of several hundred of her friends.

Wedding Announcement.
Miss Arville Winifred Pharaoh and Clyde A. Case were married Sunday noon, the service having been read by the Rev. E. H. Winans in the bungalow home of the young people.

Bride-elect Complimented.
One of the daintiest pre-nuptial affairs given for Miss Lucille Locke, who has chosen Thursday, December 19, for her wedding to John William Fletcher White, was the tea given Saturday afternoon by Miss Hazel White at her home, No. 455 Kingsley drive. A profusion of bouquets and carnations were used throughout the rooms given over to the affair, and the bride's mother, Mrs. J. E. White, assisted in receiving the guests. An elaborate collation was served.

Those enjoying the hospitality of the afternoon, Mrs. Bryant Matson, Mrs. Nathan Helman, Mrs. Roy Repp, Mrs. E. F. M. Clifford, Clifford Vernon, Mrs. Tudor Tiedemann, Mrs. E. T. Brooks, Mrs. Norman Lawler, Mrs. J. E. White, Mrs. Robert G. Wagner, Mrs. A. M. Conner, Miss Monette Miller of Oakland, Miss Margaret Locke, Miss Ruth Locke, Miss Jean Moran, Miss Alberta Hanna, Miss Helen Spaulding, Miss Jane Spaulding, Miss Grace Leavens, Miss Mary Hanna, Miss Winifred Millsap, Miss Katherine Graham and Miss Flossie Cronenwitter.

Bridge Affairs.
Mrs. Loren James and her sister, Mrs. Frank Caldwell, are to entertain with one of the handsome bridge bidders of the day, this afternoon, at the home of the former, No. 1825 Gramercy place. Sixty guests have accepted invitations and the arrangements for the affair are to be carried out in pink, baby Cecile Bruner roses arranged in gold and silver baskets adorning the small tables.

Card Party.
The "Ladies of St. Agnes" will hold a card party on the evening of Thursday in the parlor of Mrs. West Adams street and Vernon avenue. Some interesting features are being planned by the ladies to make the evening enjoyable. At this time also announcement will be made of the returns from the Christmas sale of last month.

To Tour the World.
Mr. and Mrs. Louis Arner, M. L. Powers and Dr. and Mrs. Robert Smythe will leave March 1 on a two years' tour of the world. They will sail from New York to Naples, thence proceed by automobile through Italy, France, Spain, Germany, Austria, Belgium, Holland, Norway, Sweden and Russia. Egypt, Holy Land, Africa, Ceylon, India, Burma, Java, China, Korea, Manchuria and Japan.

For Younger Set.
A pretty affair for the younger set was given at the home of Mrs. Robert Marsh yesterday afternoon for the 1912 class of Cumnock girls as a birthday party to their teacher in charge, Mrs. Anna M. Outlook Club, Thirty-Member Organization, Would Revolutionary System That Has Stood Tests.

The Outlook Club, organized six months ago, as yet having a membership of but thirty women, is to endeavor to secure enactment of drastic legislation by the next Legislature when it plans to present the draft of a bill directed against title abstract companies.

Mrs. James Scherfes is president of the organization, which is declared to have plans for auditing and editing bills to be presented to the Legislature.

The members of the club say the object of the bill is to take the business away from the title abstract companies and put it in the hands of counties and cities, the municipality or county to furnish abstract of title at a nominal fee to all purchasers of property.

The members of the club say the bill was inefficient and incompetent. He at once sent his resignation, and the document was not circulated. Petitions to unseat Justice of the Peace D. C. Gandy had been recently signed, and among statements rest the names of circulators who appeared before the board.

Holst was opposed by E. O. Clay, Warren's picked candidate, and Henry Gottlieb, former president. He Edie Sherman looked on as Holst's successor, if that official is unseated.

JEFFERSONIAN CELEBRATION.

Tenth Anniversary of "Only Democratic Organization South of the Tehachapi" an Event.

Eighteen hundred strong, flying the colors of "the only Democratic organization south of the Tehachapi," the Jefferson Club will celebrate its tenth anniversary Thursday evening with a theater party at the Lycceum and a Dutch lunch at the clubrooms after the show.

Steward S. P. Clark made this announcement last night and added that a central board makes the rates for all companies and that these are not empowered to deviate from the fixed charge. He was requested to communicate with this board and report at a later meeting.

It is pretty certain that not many men of the smart set will be available for any social use on Friday evening, December 27, as it has been decided by the Jonathan Club to hold its midwinter jinks on that night instead of having it on New Year's Eve.

Don't forget to mention," he said, "that Theodore Bell, the William Jennings Bryan of the West, is to be our principal speaker."

DRY-FARMING TOUR.

On a lecture tour over the lines of the Southern Pacific, Hardy W. Campbell, the noted dry-farm expert of this country, reported at the Van Nuys for a day and proposed to go to San Francisco last night.

"My great aim and object at this time is to help in the revolutionizing of agriculture on the Pacific Coast, and through the Southwest, and making this the center of the crop culture that is to help feed the world," said Campbell in speaking of the present educational system of lectures.

"There are thousands of acres in this and other adjoining States that might profitably be placed under tillage, but that are lying idle because of the skepticism of the farmer who fears that the crop will not stand up to the weather, and that at this time is to be carried out in pink, baby Cecile Bruner roses arranged in gold and silver baskets adorning the small tables.

Official Report of G. A. R. Encampment Shows Economic Handling of Great Event—Heavy Relief.

The recent forty-sixth national encampment of the G. A. R. here cost just $50,198—$346 less than the estimate—according to the official report of Executive Director H. Z. Osborne, issued yesterday.

Subscriptions to the G. A. R. fund and $127 received from salvage totaled $64,782. The difference of $14,584 has been returned to subscribers of the encampment, from the financial point of view, in particular—has received a great deal of commendation, especially from subscribers who have received refund checks.

The Outlook Club, organized six months ago, as yet having a membership of but thirty women, is to endeavor to secure enactment of drastic legislation by the next Legislature when it plans to present the draft of a bill directed against title abstract companies.

Mrs. James Scherfes is president of the organization, which is declared to have plans for auditing and editing bills to be presented to the Legislature.

The members of the club say the object of the bill is to take the business away from the title abstract companies and put it in the hands of counties and cities, the municipality or county to furnish abstract of title at a nominal fee to all purchasers of property.

In the report, which is compiled in twenty-four-page booklet, Director Osborne gives a complete and comprehensive report of all details of the encampment from inception to culmination—history, organizations of the general committee, transportation, hotel rates and accommodations, pledges, raising of funds, expenditure, estimates of the character of the encampment, decorations, suite of quarters, information and registration, parade, administration, etc., etc., with all figures.

NOT EASY.
Some sort of peace conference is being held at St. James Palace. In this day and time it is mighty hard for peaceful persons to find a nation which is neither at war nor getting ready for war.

IS MONEY'S WORTH.
Lick just naturally follows some men. This fellow Skagenberg at Philadelphia had an operation for appendicitis and his surgeon found two appendices and removed them both.

OH, YOU KID!
Los Angeles now knows to exactly what extent it is a better city than San Francisco. This city has 6529 kindergarten pupils and spends $156,972 annually for their education. San Francisco has only 5583 in this important school branch. No wonder Los Angeles shows signs of growth.

TO THE OLD SOD.
Alderman John Coughlin of Chicago will spend St. Patrick's day in Ireland and is taking sixty Chicago Irishmen with him to the green Isle in order to celebrate the advent of Home Rule. It would be most unfair if Chicago took advantage of the absence of Bath House John and his friends to start some sort of America-for-American movement.

GREAT MAGAZINE.
Current Literature is to change its name to Current Opinion. Somehow the word "opinion" lacks in euphony; but this periodical is clever enough to withstand a much greater handicap. It is really a blinding, comprehensive review of world events and has a touch like sheet lightning. In this day when most magazines seem to have entered a keen rivalry as to which can make itself the most unreadable Mr. Wheeler's review is heartily refreshing.

RETIRING PERSON.
Modesty is always an appropriate attribute. We hear so much nowadays of Mr. Bryan and the Senate, Mr. Bryan and the Cabinet, Mr. Bryan and the tariff, Mr. Bryan and the Philippines and Mr. Bryan and the Democratic platform that we think a new Nobel prize should be offered for the modest man in the world so that is the future we would hear of Mr. Bryan and Moses.

CAN THEY GET IT?
Can the Chinese get money to fight Russia over Mongolia? The question looms all the larger because Japan sides with Russia in the present argument. China has had a hard time obtaining big enough a loan to organize the new republic, but perhaps it is easier to get money to fight than it is to secure it for peaceful purposes. The world will watch the United States rather closely just now because every nation knows that the future of China is one of America's finest business assets.

LARGE TASK.
On Christmas eve San Francisco will try to bury the hatchet by burning the hammer. We trust that all factions to that city's knocking contest will participate in the ceremony and will thereafter remain thoroughly imbued with its spirit. With the approach of the Panama-Pacific Exposition San Francisco should forget everything except the hard work before it. Its citizens are naturally hospitable and cordial and they cannot afford to miss this greatest of opportunities to make a good front before the world.

PICKLED MEMORIES.
Taking mental morphine is never the brave thing to do. Indeed it is dangerous to dodge the pain coming to one because anything that will deaden grief will also lessen pleasure. It would be a happy faculty to develop, however, if every person might keep a little cloister of memories which they could enter at any time in order to enjoy the fragrance of some beautiful event of the past. In this way nothing lovely would ever escape us and everything charming might often be renewed. Men do not live enough with their happiness.

UNLIKELY.
President Taft is revealing himself as a humorist. A New York man has written a song which he wants to be the national anthem in place of "America" or "Columbia." He had his Congressman take it to Mr. Taft for Executive approval and the big man at the White House said it was so good that he must save it for Wilson. National anthems are not determined by the writer, nor by Congress, nor the President, but only by the people. A song has to whittle and burn itself into the heart of the nation before it arrives.

THE PEOPLE AND THE SHIPS.
This is a prophecy and not a statement of policy. Under any circumstances, Great Britain will not have long to wait to see the ships of all nations, including those of the United States, paying the same toll in passing through the Panama Canal. American ships may be admitted free in the beginning, but as soon as some shipowners or companies show signs of opulence the easy of the people will descend upon them and they will be made to pay. It will be nothing to the people that they share the benefits of the free tolls. They can never stand to see the shipowners doing well and not being taxed at every conceivable point.

W. H. LEWIS REED.
In the 18th year of his eventful life on earth, full of years and honors, White-law Reed has journeyed on into the Great Unknown. In his twenty-second year he began his journalistic career as editor of the Xenia (O.) News. When the Civil War broke out he became war correspondent of the Cincinnati Gazette, and the brilliancy and accuracy of his reports soon caused him to be recognized as among the first of American journalists. From 1863 to 1866 he was librarian of the United States House of Representatives. Two years later he joined the editorial staff of the New York Tribune. The next year he became managing editor and, after the death of Horace Greeley in 1872, he became editor-in-chief. He was about 30 years of age when he became an active participant in the politics of New York and of the nation. President Arthur offered him the appointment of Minister to Germany, which he declined. He was appointed by President Harrison Minister to France and served for several years, exhibiting rare qualities as a diplomatist. He was nominated in 1892 by the Republican National Convention for Vice-President of the United States, but was defeated by the Democratic wave which that year overwhelmed the country.

He then resumed his duties on the New York Tribune, of which he had become the principal proprietor. President McKinley in 1897 appointed him special Ambassador to Queen Victoria's birthday jubilee. He was a member of the American-Spanish Peace Commission in Paris in 1898 and was special Ambassador at the coronation of Edward VII in 1902.

In 1905 he was appointed Ambassador to the Court of St. James to succeed Joseph H. Choate and held that position until he passed away.

In his early manhood he was an industrious toiler in the newspaper field, unknown save as a bright young journalist. He died in the possession of a world-wide fame. He is mourned in the palaces of kings and of millionaires, in the marts of trade, and in the cottages of the land he loved. The traffic of the great city of London was suspended in the street upon which his domicile fronted. He was a gentleman by birth, instinct and education. He was fearless in the performance of his duties, whether as journalist or as Ambassador, but he was ever fair and courteous, and often when it became his duty to wound, he left—as does the East Indian in the oyster—the germ of a pearl in the wound. No dishonestly-earned dollar ever soiled his fingers, and the mud of politics never made unclean his garments. He was one of the last of the generation of great thinkers and writers who adored and instructed and uplifted the social and literary and political life of America in the latter part of the century that has gone. Rest and peace be unto him forevermore!

ELECTRIC SIGN ORDINANCE.

Most of the leading business houses of Los Angeles have united in asking the city government for a little more leeway with regard to electric signs. Their petition is in the line of progress, and the council will make no mistake in taking favorable action. Indeed, The Times has not heard and cannot conceive of any valid objection to the proposition. With the amendments asked for in effect Los Angeles will soon become the best-lighted city in the West—a veritable vale of glory every evening. The advantage will accrue to every citizen, and who of us will not enjoy the spectacle? Let the electric magicians have an opportunity to do their best, say we!

CORN IS KING.

The cold facts recited in the annual report to Congress of Secretary of Agriculture Wilson read like a fairy tale. The year 1912 has been the most productive year, agriculturally, of any since the formation of our government. While men in the towns have been wrangling over unimportant problems of government, God's bounty and man's industry in the country have produced an unprecedented flood of wealth that has rolled over the land.

Sixteen years ago, when Secretary Wilson entered the Cabinet of President McKinley, the yearly farm production was worth $4,000,000,000. This year it is worth $5,532,000,000.

FAILURE OF GOVERNMENT OWNER-SHIP.

Senators and Congressmen in Washington have received information concerning the failure of government ownership of the telephone lines and the grain elevators in Manitoba, despite apparent efforts by Canadians to keep the facts back. The reports follow announcement recently made by the Manitoba government advertising for sale 172 grain elevators which it purchased two years ago for $1,000,000. These government elevators will go out of business as being operated by the government on August 31 next, and be sold to the highest bidder. It has taken only two years to prove that the state cannot successfully compete with privately-owned elevators. Grain men state that the 172 elevators are not really worth more than $350,000. The charge is made that all sorts of, worn-out, antiquated and unprofitable elevators were unloaded on the government. Even in those towns where the government secured a monopoly of the business, the project proved unsuccessful, as the farmers gave their patronage (even those who clamored the most vigorously for government ownership) to the better-equipped privately-owned elevators.

The value of farm products has increased every year with the exception of 1911. "Prices at the farm," says Secretary Wilson, "are generally profitable and will continue the prosperity that farmers have enjoyed in recent years. In spite of the lower total value of animals sold and slaughtered the total crop value is so far above that of 1911 and of any preceding year that the total production of farm wealth is the highest yet reached by half a billion dollars."

Based on the census items of wealth production on farms the grand total for 1912 is estimated to be $9,532,000,000. This unthinkable amount of wealth has been contributed to the nation in one year by the soil and by the farmers' live stock. It is more than twice the value of the wealth produced on farms in 1899, according to the census, and it is about one-eighth more than the wealth produced in 1909.

In 1897 the wealth produced on farms in the United States, being represented by eighty-four, the wealth produced in 1912 is represented by 202, an increase of 141 percent. This increase is due not merely to an increase in the number of acres cultivated, but also to an increase in the yield

An Oil Discovery In Mexico.

KINSONIA.

BY LILLIAN COLLINS.

No, it's not a cult.
Neither is it a spineless cactus, or other deformed plant of the Burbank species; although it has somewhat to do with spines, as I hope to make clear.

It's a queer word, isn't it? It was invented by a Denver man some years ago to cover the whole genus of learners who work the relationship graft; fathers, mothers, brothers, sisters; the whole tribe of able-bodied men and women who can work, but prefer to let George do it.

It's a vast army, this clan of kinsonia grafters. Do you know what I'd do with them if I had the ordering of things for a while? I'd institute a house-to-house campaign; I'd send an official "erler" through the streets of every town and village in this broad land; in some way I'd collect the whole bunch of shiftless parasites, and I'd ship the whole parcel, l.o.b., to the Balkans to help forward the movement for universal peace.

That's all they're good for; that's all they represent, just bulk.

And if we didn't arrive at universal peace by the process we'd at least have family peace, and that's the best kind of a start toward universal peace.

Do you know what I think about them?—these spineless vertebrates! I think that a bank looter is an honorable gentleman by comparison (and I don't have a very high regard for a bank looter, either) but he, at least, seems to be what he is. His purpose is to cheat life of its toll of toll; he intends to live without the effort of earning the privilege; he grafts—but at least he grafts from those who are bound to him by no ties of blood or love. But the kinsonia grafter—he's just a spineless creature; sly, inert, indolent, feeding upon the tissues and very heart's blood of those who love him too well to measure his desert. A human shape, with the structure of a jellyfish!

In this day of advanced surgery, when it has become the simplest kind of a process to have a perfectly good ear or nose grafted on to one's bereaved anatomy, or a reasonably sound second-hand heart adjusted to one's yearning cardiac cavity, it seems strange that so many folks should be wandering around without even a plain, simple backbone.

One would think a backbone would be easy. Most any kind of stiffening would answer. Anything to keep one from lopping or wobbling. Why, I'd rather wear some home-made contraption of lath and baling wire than go without one, wouldn't you?

And yet nearly all of us know some people entitled to wear a badge of affiliation in the illustrious fraternity of Worthless Knights of the Order of Kinsonia. (W.K.O.K., a suggestion and material for another union.)

W.K.O.K.—the mystic symbol which bands the host of misfit humanity into one vast order of incompetency; and yet it requires but the transposition and substitution of one little letter to become a symbol of the most satisfying and enduring, the only real success—WORK.

There are a good many varieties of kinsonia grafters. They range widely and practice many arts in the pursuit of their vicious livelihood. Some of them are pleasant, and others disagreeable; some are stupid, and others crafty; some are cheerful, and yet others gloomy, but there's not much choice among them, really. Some may look a little better than others perhaps, but it's mostly a matter of exterior.

It is an American edition of Kellar's inventions, with the addition of a few new features, based on the appearance and the only real success—WORLD.

RIVERSIDE. Dec. 16.—William Lucas, the only officer who knows anything of the circumstances connected with the tragedy of Sunday morning when Policeman Bert Barrett shot and killed Acting Chief John R. Baird, has been placed by Mayor Peters temporarily in charge of the office.

In relating today the details of the events which led up to the shooting Lucas is able to add little new light on the motives which may have prompted the affair. He states that the two men would have come to blows had he not interfered at one time. He confirms the first reports which hold the trouble to Barrett's drinking and the severe reprimand that this evoked from his superior officer.

Others who saw Barrett during the evening and shortly before the shooting make the claim today that the officer was not under the influence of liquor, and another possible explanation of the shooting is advanced. It is asserted that the two men had been talking to friends that the tragedy was probably the result of the acting chief's part in the case against the two sons of Constable John Baird, who, however, bears no relation to the deceased officer. Barrett is a brother-in-law of Constable Baird, and the opposition is that the two men, who were the sons of Baird, served a grudge against him. Barrett still refuses to make a statement, and refers all inquirers to his attorney, Senator Estudillo. It is intimated that the defense will attempt to show that mitigating circumstances, such as threatening circumstances, in the case of Baird, were responsible for the deed.

The slayer of the dead officer will tell his story at 9:30 o'clock tomorrow before the Coroners' Jury. The six men who have been summoned to the hearing are: Dr. E. B. Morris, T. J. Leeds, T. W. Hand, A. G. Phillips, John H. House and Milton Jenkins. Senator Estudillo will appear for Barrett at the hearing.

The funeral will be held at the First Baptist Church Tuesday afternoon. Dr. G. P. Holt officiating. The ceremonies at the grave will be in charge of Riverside Lodge, No. 253, L.O.O.P.

DRAGGED FIFTY FEET.

Struck full on by a Santa Fe freight train at the Seventh street crossing at noon today, Russell Darr, a young boy, was dragged fully fifty feet with his machine by the pilot of the engine before he could be extricated.

To the great relief and astonishment of the bystanders, Darr was pulled out from the wreckage a greatly frightened but miraculously young man, who was walking for the train to pass, but was going at such a rate of speed that he concluded his only escape lay in beating the train to the crossing. There was a flagman on duty at the time.

While young Darr's injuries were not serious, his condition was not serious, but he was sent to a physician for treatment and later taken home. The motorcycle will require only a few dollars for repair.

NEW WATER CORPORATION.

Articles of incorporation of the Superior Mutual Water Company, with a capital stock of $100,000, have been filed with the County Clerk. The new company will have its principal place of business in Riverside, and will serve water users in the Elsinore Valley. Of the capital stock, $500 has been paid in by the directors, who are Charles E. Wait, P. S. Castleman, Charles E. Johnson and D. W. Harvey of Riverside, and W. S. Durkin of Elsinore.

THREE-LINKERS FOREGATHER.

Twenty-five candidates will be introduced to the mysteries of the initiatory degree of Odd Fellowship tomorrow evening by a degree team from Ontario lodge. With this bunch safely gathered into the fold, Riverside Lodge No. 222, will probably again take its place at the head of the column in the State, as its membership will be just within the shadow of 200. A number of southern lodges are working hard for the pair of jeweled gavels offered by Grand Master Charles E. Snyder for the distinction of being the largest lodge in California.

CHICK ARTIST CAPTURED.

One Brussels, who is wanted on four charges of passing bad checks at Corcoran, and for the same offense at Fresno, was brought here today from San Joaquin by Sheriff Wilson. Brussels was a veritable Beau Brummell when it came to dress, and a smooth talker. He has intimated to the sheriff that he will plead guilty to the charge of forgery.

ONE STAR FADES.

Although disappointed over their failure to secure Walter Johnson, the twirler of the Washington American League team, for the all-star aggregation scheduled to play here Christmas Day, local fans are going after other big game. An effort will be made to lure Overton, the Chicago pitcher, and failing in this, overtures will be made to Tuta Schults of Philadelphia, who is pitching for the San Diego team. Jack Meyers will be in the catcher's position in any event.

JAPANESE KILLED.

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Dec. 14.—An unknown Japanese young man was accidentally killed near the China Camp Club about three miles south of this city, at very early hour this morning while walking on the tracks, by the Pacific Electric car on the Newport line, which left Los Angeles at 11:30 last night. The night was foggy and the man paid no attention to the motorman's whistle. An emigration paper was found in the dead man's pocket. The body will be taken to the mortuary and the coroner will view it at 8 o'clock tomorrow morning. It is mangied beyond all recognition.

Music and the Stage.

On Wednesday and Saturday all children will have ample opportunity to glean knowledge at first hand of the frozen north. As there are 4000 feet of film in the six reels, a full two hours' entertainment is afforded, with brief rests between each reel of 1990 feet.

Following the pictures, for its Christmas week attraction, the Mason is presenting the Klaw & Erlanger international production of "Ben Hur," with an increased company. Seats for this will go on sale Thursday morning. Meantime all orders are inundating the office.

Mozart.

If you have not watched the wonderful advance of the moving picture industry and the importance of motion pictures as a factor in the progress and education of the world, but following me, you will be more interested through this medium. The pictures of school books and of soldiers could make the heroes of history and mythology really before their eyes, they would enjoy and remember in much greater degree.

CUPID STILL ON THE JOB.

Mr. Ed Unger Glares at the Police and Smiles at Husband and Says All Will Be Well.

SANTA MONICA. Dec. 15.—Her eyes flashing defiance at the officers of the law, but beaming meekly glances upon her earnest husband, Mrs. Ed Unger, who was arrested here last night by Officer Rico on complaint of her mother, was taken from the matron's department of the City Jail this morning and delivered to a representative of the Juvenile Court, and taken to Los Angeles. She called in her young husband that she would be free soon, and would come back to him.

UNDER IS OUT ON BAIL from a charge of perjury, filed against him in San Bernardino. The charge alleges that he gave his bride's age at 18, when she was but 17, and a ward of the Juvenile Court. That Unger, who is 21, has not yet made a pie for the release of his wife before Judge Whitehill tomorrow, and has hopes that they may be allowed to live peacefully in their home near Ascot Park. Unger has given up the balloon business, he says.

PIONEER DIES.

Mrs. Sarah J. Death, who was 81 years of age, the oldest member of the Santa Monica Methodist Church, passed away at her home, No. 1424 Fourth street, after a short illness. Mrs. Death had made her home in Santa Monica for twenty-one years. Previous to that she was in the First Church. The members of the official board of the church acted as pallbearers at the funeral, which was held this afternoon.

Raisin Day Seems to Be an Occasion Which Only One Town is Able to Handle.

107 DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.

FRESNO, Dec. 15.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The official announcement that the Hanford Chamber of Commerce will not take up the plans for the 1913 raisin day, April 26, was received by the Fresno Chamber of Commerce today and an invitation was tonight mailed to the Selma organization asking them to accept the offer and make efforts to hold the raisin day celebration.

It is understood that Selma business men are opposed to holding the raisin day this year. If that proves true, the Fresno merchants will subscribe the necessary funds raisin day.

The day is offered to the other cities this year because there has been some criticism in the past as to how the affair had been handled by the local Chamber of Commerce.

LAST SHIPMENT.

LINDSAY. Dec. 15.—Last of the orange trains to leave Lindsay for the east this season, and consisting from this station last evening the third four cars in this lot bringing the total for the season up to 300 cars.

Practically all the packing-houses have closed for this season. A few cars of late fruit may be shipped, but they will have small effect in continuing the season's total.

Telegraph reports were received here today from New York to the effect that the carload of oranges sent as an educational demonstration to the eastern market center sold for $12.24. The New York buyers admitted the high quality of the fruit and the arrangement would have brought a considerable higher price except for an over-run of large sizes with which the market was glutted the day the car went to auction.

The Most Favorable Location in the State For Dairy Farming

The land that can be had cheaper than anywhere else—only $100 an acre. Compare this land, its splendid location and rich soil, with other lands offered at $150 an acre. Water? No limit to it. All it costs you is $1.50 per acre per year. Interest? Only 6 per cent.

HE MUST EXPLAIN.

Deputy United States District Attorney Robinson, who has in charge the investigation of the so-called squatters in the Arroyo Valley, said that he proposes summoning George Moore, justice of the peace, at Blythe, before the Federal grand jury to explain where, in the statutes of California, he finds authority for his alleged action in issuing an injunction restraining a homestead entrant from entering upon land awarded him after a contest by the Department of the Interior.

LAST SHIPMENT.

LINDSAY, Dec. 15.—Last of the orange trains to leave Lindsay for the east this season, and consisting from this station last evening the third four cars in this lot bringing the total for the season up to 300 cars.

Practically all the packing-houses have closed for this season. A few cars of late fruit may be shipped, but they will have small effect in continuing the season's total.

Telegraph reports were received here today from New York to the effect that the carload of oranges sent as an educational demonstration to the eastern market center sold for $12.24.

The New York buyers admitted the high quality of the fruit and the arrangement would have brought a considerable higher price except for an over-run of large sizes with which the market was glutted the day the car went to auction.

Including the disbursements of the Mexican Petroleum Company, on preferred and common stock, the grand total of reported dividends by California companies for November was in excess of $1,000,000. The total disbursements of concerns operating in California was, however, somewhat less than in October. Some of the companies were forced to suspend dividends. It is said, because of the Standard Oil Company's refusal to accept oil under eighteen gravity, with some of the quarterly payments were due last month.

TWO BANQUETS DIVERT MANY.

Noted Speakers Address the Congregational Affair.

Pasadena Claims a Great Growth in Population.

New Denominational College Proposed by Pastor.

PASADENA, Dec. 17.—Both the Southern California Congregational Club and the Pasadena Royal Board held banquets at the Hotel Maryland last night. The former was attended by about 200 persons and the latter by about fifty.

The meeting of the Congregational Club was the first that has been held in Pasadena for many years, and the first business of the organization was to elect Rev. Daniel F. Fox, pastor of the First Congregational Church here, president. Rev. George F. Kengott of Los Angeles was elected first vice-president; Rev. H. W. Booth of Pasadena, second vice-president; A. B. Chittenden of Los Angeles, secretary, and J. T. Whetton of Los Angeles, treasurer.

James M. Bissell, president of Claremont College and retiring president of the club, presided as toastmaster. The speaker was Rev. Dr. M. Sheldon, author of "In His Image." Prof. Charles F. Kent of Yale University, and Dr. Wallace Buttrick of New Haven.

The members of the club who were present voted to lower the dues of the club from $5 a year to $1, and to open the club to women.

The reality men busied themselves with discussions on topics of business interest to them. The speakers were George N. Black of Los Angeles, president of the California State Mutual Federation, who urged more Pasadena real estate firms to join the State organization; James G. Steward of Los Angeles, executive secretary of the State organization, and J. C. Purdy of San Francisco, secretary.

CITY-GROWS FAST.

Albert G. Thurston, who is now at work on the new directory, which is to be issued the latter part of next month, estimates that his canvas will show an increase of approximately 50,000 over the population of the corresponding year. Last year the census for the directory showed a population of 24,000, and this year it will probably be about 37,000, he declares.

An improvement that has been made in the blanks which are used by the canvassers, each of which now has a population stub, Thurston expects to make a more accurate count of residents of the city than has ever before been possible for him to do.

TALKS ON NEW COLLEGE.

That Pasadena may be chosen as the site of a new college, which will rank with the leading colleges of California, has been made known by former pastor of the Christian Church, More than this he will not say.

He declared yesterday that there is such a movement on foot, and that it has substantial financial backing. He also said that he will have more to say on the question that is to be given on the Board of Trade at the Hotel Green next Thursday.

TAILORING THE FLOATS.

Larry D. Ely, formerly principal of the Pasadena High School, who has played an important part in the arrangement of many of the Tournament of Roses, which has been held in the city, has been given full charge of the preparations for the annual Rose Parade of the floral parade of New Year's Day morning. He is now at work designing the floats and the costumes that will be worn by those to take part in that feature of the pageant.

The officers of the Tournament of Roses Association are offering many inducements to residents of the city to husband their flowers, and contribute them toward the profusion that will be needed on New Year's Day. They hope that the result will be that an astoundingly large number of blossoms may be collected for use then.

PLANS NEW SWAN.

City Engineer Van Ornum will this morning submit to the City Council plans for a sewer system in the Orange Avenue district. The Orange Avenue hill has long been an obstacle that threatened to be insurmountable, but the City Engineer has at last overcome this with plans for the installation of two electric centrifugal pumps.

The City Engineer estimates the cost of the proposed new sewer system at $17,000.

The East Side storm drain question will again come up for a public hearing at today's session of the Council, and there will probably be a large attendance of residents of that part of the city. The Councilmen expect to take final action in the matter to-day.

ACCEPT BANQUET INVITATIONS.

San Gabriel Inter-city Commission Will Discuse Billboards and a General Club Proposition.

SOUTH PASADENA, Dec. 15.—Acceptances from nearly fifty men of the San Gabriel Valley Inter-city Commission and their wives have been received for the pre-Christmas luncheon to be given at Christopher's No. 551 South Broadway, Los Angeles, Saturday, December 21. Seats have been provided to accommodate 200.

"Whereas, The Woman's City Club, realizing the evil that results from the indiscriminate sale of intoxicants, desires to record its opposition to the saloon in the city of Long Beach, and whereas we feel that it is a tremendous task for the personnel of the city to deny the right to use spirituous or malt beverages with their meals or in other moderate and temperate ways if they so desire and—

"Whereas, Between the two amendments relating to the sale of liquors, to be submitted to the people, amendment No. 24 (assuming the table-license) is discriminatory and unenforceable and amendment No. 25 is practical and amendatory, legally enforceable, and is free from the spirit of intolerance that begets antagonism in a community and retarded its social, civil and commercial progress; now, therefore, be it—

"Resolved, That we endorse amendment No. 25 and pledge ourselves to do all in our power to secure its success at the polls."

Other resolutions adopted called for the appointment of a municipal inspector of weights and measures, the protection of streetcar passengers and called for the appointment of a committee of three club members to devise ways and means for securing a better sewer system for Long Beach.

Mrs. O. P. Clark of Los Angeles, president of the Los Angeles Woman's City Club, gave the principal address before the luncheon, impressing upon her hearers by her remarks regarding the purpose and possibilities of such organization work. Mrs. D. M. Shreve, president-elect of the new club, studied law at the University of New York, and is now giving weekly instruction in the study of law to a class of Long Beach Ebell club members.

HEART FAILURE.

Samuel G. Thomson, found lying face downward in the edge of the surf this morning, was believed to be in a condition of heart failure, and died this afternoon at the Seaside Hospital. He is still suffering from shock and whether or not he will recover is uncertain. Thomson, who is about 60 years old, could not explain how he happened to be on the beach.

In the absence of evidence, it is believed that he fainted or collapsed with heart failure, as he walked along the waterfront. Frank Paschall and Blair Kuebler, young men who were walking along the pier, saw him and jumped to the beach to rescue him. The attending physician has said nothing definite, but Thomson has been living at the Wilshire Apartments here and that he has a nephew, Walter H. Scott, in Hanford, Cal., and a sister, Mrs. Ruth C. Kyle, in Chester, Pa.

OWNER'S BELIEF.

Officers of the Barco class of the Methodist Church for the ensuing year have been elected as follows: Leslie Cooper, president; Harold Stockman, Vice-Chairman; Carl Cooper, secretary; Frank Venard, treasurer; Charles E. Carver, teacher; and Mrs. Z. L. Parmenter, assistant teacher.

Bailey Hickman, Flag Bearer.

WOMAN'S RELIEF CORPS.

Mrs. N. P. Banks Post has elected Mrs. Flora Pixley, Corps President; Mrs. Cora A. Maxwell, Senior Vice-President; Mrs. Adah Atkinson, Junior Vice-President; Mrs. Susie Dutton, Treasurer; Mrs. Alma Dutton, Conductor; Mrs. Mary Borthwick, Chaplain; Mrs. Marlie Carpenter, Trustee.

NEWS BRIEFS.

Mrs. Louis Proctor of East First Street suffered a fracture of her left shoulder last night when she fell in alighting from a street car at Ocean and Alamillos avenues.

Several hundred dollars have been subscribed for the relief of Mrs. W. N. Duffield and her two young sons, whose home was destroyed by fire last night. The First Christian Church, of which Mrs. Duffield is a member, raised $200 for her at the church service last night and Capt. A. W. Macdonnell and others circulated a subscription list today. Mrs. Duffield was left a widow a few months ago when her husband died suddenly of heart failure.

The trial of George Hawking, who was arrested on a charge of battery, came to an end this afternoon when the jury reported a disagreement. The suit had been before the court for three days.

Miss Mabel Heath, pianist, from New York; Miss Helen Bronk of this city, a vocalist, and Miss Vinnie Goe, a High School teacher, with ability as a reader, have donated their services and will perform at the benefit to be given at the Ebell Clubhouse tomorrow night for the day-nursery of the Associated Charities.

An inquest into the death of Lyle Simpson, 11-year-old boy, who was fatally shot yesterday afternoon while duck-hunting, will be held, his mother, Mrs. Joseph N. Simpson of No. 724 Ohio avenue, being convinced that the tragedy was accidental. The boy's father returned home tonight from Fellows, Cal., where he is employed in the oil fields.

The trial of Mrs. John F. Lightburn will be held Wednesday afternoon at the Cleveland chapel, the Rev. O. H. L. Mason officiating. Mrs. Lightburn had been a resident of Long Beach more than nineteen years and, until her long illness came on, was active in W.C.T.U. and missionary society work.

Miss Phoebe A. Cole, 80 years old, died last night at No. 514 West Seventh street. The body will be taken East for burial at Osage, Iowa. She was a native of Vermont and had lived in this city for three months.

Mrs. Ruth Enders, a widow, died this morning at No. 227 Atlantic avenue. She was born in New York in 1858. Funeral services will be held at the residence and burial will be made here.

L.A.C. READY FOR TROJANS.Club-Family Game Promises Some Fast Rugby.*Both Squads Should Develop Wide-Open Play.*Christmas Match Will Give Club Real Test.

By OWEN R. BIRD.
This is the last stage of hard practice for the Trojans and the U.A.C. before the Christmas Day game, which sees the California team in a position to claim as a football champion. In meeting the Trojans, U.A.C. will be making out of the situation in the south what we are in Southern's case, with much greater Chances on a good performance in the south.

However, although the L.A.C. have played, no late practice game before the big match, the development made was very satisfactory to the followers of the sport here. The advance of the Southern team, as shown in the last game of the season, has been marked by the fact that the two sides have matched and with players playing the first and second in their attack of center field, makes the backfield a dangerous scoring combination.

These men know how to run and when running the ball breaks up the defense of the backfield. The only thing that could be gained before the game is stopped. In the course the Trojans will have a slight advantage, as all the members of that famous battering ram have been playing together for the past two months, and the U.A.C. men have practiced every back out against it. This season and now, took the ball away from the Trojans, which is no great achievement in a Rugby way.

The L.A.C. forwards are not in the same position, however, as the two old standbys and California "bombers" are. They will undoubtedly steady the play of the receiver and the more experienced members of the crew will always work on the theory that they have been in a position to do this for the past two months. They started with the idea of moving, which is the proper method of starting any play in this game, but it is not generally used, nor for this reason is it more open and far from the starting point of the movement from the receiver.

The Trojans have been all along with, however, all the seasons that the team, as a whole, has learned to play close to ball, and, in fact, Klemmer has finally put the players to work for this game of the competition will be more open than in any previous season. In the game against the California team, the Trojans showed a lack of speed in the open work and, as a result, with several good passing routes and other trick moves that made them look dangerous at times and had the men on the defense and the backs on the defense and a lack of speed. It is to be hoped, however, that the Trojans will be more open and play with more speed in this game.

The U.A.C. team will go into this game on a fairly even basis and the most recent news, as we have it, is that they have won the entire point. Last night, the team, in the final game in the state, after being trailing on in every game, and winning the Olympic Club team from San Francisco, to within an inch of its life. The question now is, will history repeat?

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 16.—(Industrials) L. C. F. Lomaxer of the California team, and O. C. C. Rugby players is authority for the statement that the Rugby teams of the Central California Amateur Athletic League are at least equal to the best high school teams of the Bay and Southern California.

In giving his further opinion, after he has acted as chief official in the Pomona-Pasadena game here last week, that the Pomona team may be the best in the state, and that the Southern team, in the northern portion of the State, with which he is particularly familiar.

As Lomaxer has played the game for year, and is considered a real authority, the statement could have some weight.

In the meantime, while the Central California schools are awaiting recognition from the other Rugby associations, the Southern schools, who are continuing to compete with Los Angeles for the "State championship," does not appear to be nothing in the California situation to prevent Pomona from being the best high school team in the state.

British Observers on Late School Games Indicate Local Ability to Handle English Teams Which Are to Come Next Year.

DRIVING the two years since I played football, has been adopted in Southern California, I have been unable to convince myself that great progress has been made in the game," so stated T. H. Palmer, a Southern representative yesterday.

As an "international" Rugby player, having played for England during the summer of 1895-96, I feel it may day and practice to briefly touch upon some of the fine points of the game which characterized the various plays between the Los Angeles High School team and the Berkeley team.

Both these teams appeared to be evenly matched. Opportunity turned the scale in favor of the latter. They were superior outside the scrum, both in running, passing, straight, and grasping, or endeavoring to grasp favorable opportunities. It was this that forced them ahead by a narrow margin.

The Los Angeles boys held the advantage in the scrum, both in securing the ball, holding and action, and, as a result, the Trojans showed a lack of speed in the open work and, as a result, with several good passing routes and other trick moves that made them look dangerous at times and had the men on the defense and the backs on the defense and a lack of speed. It is to be hoped, however, that the Trojans will be more open and play with more speed in this game.

The Franklin That Won.

Just a standard Franklin that had already covered before the miles—the self-starting car that was in the Los Angeles race a year ago—but as the popular saying goes—“You can't teach an old dog new tricks.”

It is the most practical and economical car for any auto because it gives more real service for the money than any car that's built.

Entz Electric Starter and Lighting System

This is a conspicuous feature of the new "Franklin"—the car is a REAL self-starter—it is connected directly with the motor and is operated by the main switch that starts the motor—no extra buttons to push—no levers to move.

You can't stall your engine because the motor runs steadily again without any action on your part.

Our difficulty is going to be to supply the demand. We are taking advance orders now. To insure getting YOUR Franklin, advise you to place your order now.

POCKET-BILLIARD OPEN BRILLIANT

Crack Players of the Southwest Which Is to Last Until Christmas Meet Northern Champions in the Title-Triple and Double Slams.

HAROLD TRIPP of Chicago leaves the coming shot in the pocket-billiard tournament by Alfred Blackwood of the Atlanta, Georgia, in a contest which will decide the champion of the Southwest. The tournament, which is the first of three, will be held in San Francisco, one of which is to play here, as well as others outside of the Southwest.

Going to come immediately after the tournament is over is a meeting of crack players for which the most prominent is to be the champion of the Northwest, Fred Shadwell, of San Francisco, and the champion of the Southwest, Harold Blackwood, of Atlanta.

Harold, who lately left the United States to represent the United States in the pocket-billiard championship, played his last game to lead the Atlanta team to victory.

After making a decisive fight of it for the first half of the battle, Shadwell let loose a right-hand wallop to the chin that carried him to victory. After Parson's considerable fight, he followed with a left hook that sent Parson reeling across the canvas. McFarland touching one hand to the floor to gain his balance. By keeping after his man, Shadwell was able to win the round by a comfortable margin.

In the other round, McFarland followed the same line of action, so that it ended at three hours.

McFarland, being cleverly, cautiously, won the first round by a big margin and forced Murphy to the other rounds up to the sixth. The eastern boy gave a good account of himself, however, and Murphy was not able to score a point in the first round.

Both players were in excellent condition, however, and they were not less than punches and forced the stock yards fighter.

Packy, however, was the master of every round but the sixth. Often times he would, by his vigorous and determined efforts, force his opponent to the floor to gain his balance. By keeping after his man, Shadwell was able to win the round.

In the first round after the fighters shook hands and began sparring, Murphy tried for the abdomen. Packy, rushing in, landed a right left to the chin. Murphy, with a right uppercut, Murphy landed a right hook to the chin. Packy tried for the nose, Packy sent in a left to the chin. After Murphy had a hard swing, Murphy landed two lefts to the face. When Packy rushed Eddie, the latter covered cleverly.

McFarland rushed, landing a right on the chin. Eddie followed up with a right to the chin and covered up when Packy came back. Packy got a stiff punch on the jaw, but Packy kept forcing the fight. Up until this time Murphy had no desire to fight except on the ropes.

Packy was the aggressor and in a round of the forcing, pulling and pushing the more often, won the round. The second round opened with the fighters mixing things freely. McFarland planted two lefts to the head. Then they clinched. Murphy drove a right to the chin. Eddie, with a right uppercut, Murphy landed a right hook to the chin. Eddie sent in a left to the nose. Packy sent many well aimed blows to Eddie's head and mid section in the fight, and when Murphy began "kidding" him, the stock yards fighter answered by cutting the stock yards fighter.

Both fighters were in excellent condition, however, and it was difficult to tell who was the better. Eddie, however, was the better, and he won the round.

We left the beach we were told that two men had started a fight on the hill, and the police were called to the scene, and the police searched for any possible evidence of a fight. The police found nothing, and it was reported that the two men had been fighting on the beach, with no sign of violence.

On the way back to the car, we took to the beach, and when we got there, we found that the two men had been fighting on the beach, with no sign of violence.

PAINT AND POWDER PRATTLE.

"THE GREAT RAYMOND" was born at a July 1911 dinner party given by a group of the present members of the club on a new member's arrival.

It developed into a struggle between Dick Purvis and the new member, though, because Mr. Raymond's first name, which is the first name in the book when it was a boy, is the name of a famous Chicago or New York boxer.

When these two got together, there was nothing else to do but fight.

The members of the club, however, while not permitting a fight, did not interfere.

They did, however, permit the new member to be present.

In those days they gave two annual meetings, one in the summer and one in the winter.

At the winter meeting they were changes, and they are now.

Now the winner of the pig has to be a man, and if it were a show animal, everyone had a good time.

But sometimes the new member would not be there, and the members would have to be present.

The new member, when the company was formed, was the first man to be born.

He would not be born, and Purvis, who was born in 1911, would be born.

Now the new member is the first man to be born.

He is the first man to be born.
